The Faithful Church and the Gates of Hell

By Jay Gallimore

Jesus emphatically declared that the church He was building would not be overpowered by death and hell. It was a bold statement, given the fact that earth is a snake pit of evil angels and selfish cultures. To these, the church, built on unselfish love, was a serious threat. They cannot coexist!

Jesus makes this prediction against the back drop of an already ruined Jewish nation. They had lost their first temple and had been scattered to the nations. They repented under Ezra, the nation had been re-established and the temple rebuilt. While there were no idols to be found there, those who led the nation and ministered became filled with greed. They made the temple a “den of thieves”. Jesus and His church were seen as a threat to their worldly prosperity, as well as the Roman empire with all of its pagan wealth and power.

The apostles predicted the church would go through an apostasy, similar to what the Jewish nation went through. Over time, there would arise the “man of sin” who would lead astray the greater part of the church. This “man of sin”, already at work in the early church, would in the name of Christ, endeavor to take the place of Christ in the church. Flashing back to the Jewish nation, we find that is exactly what the High Priest and his associates did. They inserted themselves as the only interpreters of Scripture. By putting their own selfish spin on the testimony of the prophets, they deceived themselves and the nation, to the extent that they crucified their own Messiah.

Even though Pagan Rome, with its grandeur, gave birth to the Roman Christian apostasy, there were faithful churches that clung to Scripture. When one studies carefully the history of the Waldenses, the Albigenses and the churches in north Africa, one will discover that these went all the way back to the early church. They put their faith in Jesus, as their one and only High Priest, ministering for His church in the Heavenly Sanctuary. Nevertheless, these faithful people were persecuted almost to extinction by the Inquisition. But their faithfulness sowed the seeds of the Protestant Reformation.

From the President...

Jesus – The Embodiment of Righteousness

I recently read the book of John and realized that Jesus is truly the embodiment of Righteousness. In John 17, Jesus is giving His last will and testament, asking His Father to not only preserve and protect His disciples after His death, but also that they would be able to see His glory in Heaven.

Immediately after He finished His prayer, Jesus and the disciples went to Gethsemane. John points out that Jesus went where Judas knew He would be. Think of it! Jesus placed Himself where He knew His betrayer would find Him! From the time Jesus said, "I Am He" for the first time in chapter 18 until He finally said "It Is Finished" in chapter 19, He was in complete control of the situation. He could have derailed Satan's schemes at any point. But, like He told John the Baptist in Matthew 3:15, "Suffer it to be so for now: for thus it becometh us to fulfill all righteousness." Jesus was committed to fulfilling the plan of salvation, no matter the cost to Himself.

As we read through the closing scenes of Christ's life, we need to remember that these events happened in less than 18 hours from His arrest to His crucifixion. We tend to focus on the physical pain and suffering that Jesus endured for our sins. He did suffer terribly, but don't miss John's portrayal of Jesus, who was made "to be sin for us" (2 Cor. 5:21), as the kingly Sufferer.

Never did Jesus lose His focus on loving us; His commitment to save us at any cost to Himself. He cleared Peter of attempted murder by healing Malcus' ear. Pilate was beside himself looking for one excuse to free Jesus. He knew Jesus was the King of the Jews. Jesus' life is more than an example, He is the Embodiment of Righteousness. When we accept Him as our Savior, He gives us His righteousness. One day soon we will see Him.

STR Changed Lives

STR attended the Upper Peninsula camp meeting. We were encouraged as we heard the following stories:

- Heavy equipment operator stopped his equipment so he could hear the rest of a program before driving out of the signal.
- Contractor and crew who heard just a program that answered what they had been discussing on the way to a job.
- Homeschooling kids in Canada listens to Ranger Bill and Your Story Hour on STR first thing in the morning. Plus Doug Bachelor's Amazing Facts, then they run and tell their mom the fact!
- A man and his family attended church after listening to STR for 2 years.

Be sure to tell us your STR story!

It was Protestant Christianity that laid the foundation of America and wrote its constitution protecting the freedoms that we enjoy.

Yet, today the voices of atheism, secular humanism, LGBTQ advocates, feminism and socialism/communism would force a revolution that will overthrow everything that made America great. In reaction to these ruinous forces are religious forces that are calling for Sunday laws to fix climate change and family disintegration. Both will take away our time-tested freedoms! What's needed is biblical reformation that changes our selfish hearts.

Yet, in the mist of these political storms stands the Bible of the Protestant Reformation. The Bible that made America great, but now neglected by so many. Nevertheless, the faithful church, defying the gates of hell, will be found clinging to it, when Jesus comes again!

Meeting Our Listeners

Sabbath, 9/14/19, STR's team and the Lansing Church hosted a meet-and-greet picnic at Granger Meadows Park, Lansing, MI.

The Garden Guy, Gary Heilig, led us on a 45-minute nature stroll. Two young males joined our group, talked with the pastor and planned to study the Bible with him! We sang songs, read from God's Word and closed the Sabbath with prayer. We decided to put this on the calendar for next year! Please suggest where you would like a meet-and-greet program like this. Call us at 231.468.2087.

Volunteers Needed!

It feels so good to help God spread the Three Angels Messages! Many jobs need to be done to help STR. Some tasks are at the studio, such as mowing, cleaning, renovations and recording programs. Others can be done at home on your computer, such as editing programs, maintaining the website, selling donated items, making phone calls, being prayer warriors, and representing us in your local church. Call 231.486.2087. Your help will make a difference! Thank you!
